My values are of immense importance to me, and my core values mirror what I learned while in AFJROTC:

"Integrity First, Service Before Self, and Excellence In All We Do."

Integrity is vital to me and even more so in cyber security because we have so much access to many things that could be confidential or important information. One must always do the right thing even if no one is watching.

Service before Self resonates with me as I enjoy helping others and helping people succeed. Being able to protect data and property really lies within that core value.

And I strive for excellence in all I do; if I am doing something, then I strive to give it my very best as to not let myself down or anyone else.
